OUR FALL

MILLINERY OPENING

Will Take Place Saturday, Sept. 24,

This being the greatest event of the season in our line we extend to all a cordial invitation. I have employed Mrs. Pitts as Head Trimmer this season, who comes highly recommended from one of the largest wholesale Millinery houses in St. Louis. We have the very latest creations pertaining to the Millinery line such as Birds, Fancy Feathers, Wings and the new shades in Trimmings and all the latest shapes in Street Hats. Remember the date and come. I believe with such a line of Pattern and Dress Hats, to select from as we will give a display, we can interest you in style and price. I also carry Ladies furnishings. Such as Tailored Skirts, Skirt-waists, Ready made underwear, Furs, Wrappers, Childrens wraps, Belts, Purses, etc. Thanking you in advance. Respectfully,

MRS. T. J. SIMPSON.

A BIG DAY ON DRY FORK.

THE MAY FLOWER SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC

Good Speaking, Good Music And An Excellent Dinner At Tull's Ford.

Saturday was a gala day at Tull's Ford on Dry Fork. The May Flower Sunday School held its annual picnic and it was a grand success. Early in the morning the vehicles commenced arriving at the beautiful grove on the north side of the Ford and by ten o'clock they were ready for the opening exercises which consisted in a devotional service conducted by Rev. Rider, of Carthage, this exercise was followed by a few preliminary remarks by Mousie Perry, Superintendent of the Sunday Schools. Mr. Perry was followed by Dr. Junkin of Carthage, who spoke of "The growth of the Sunday Schools in America and its usefulness". The address was well received and very much appreciated. Then a luncheon, a long table was spread with a delicious meal under the shade trees, and good bodies of the community served. After luncheon speeches were listened to from Rev. Charles Yates, of Carthage, and W. T. Ferguson, of Jasper. These addresses were followed by short talks on practical work in the S. S. by Raboe, Junkin and Messrs. Perry and Benny. There was a good attendance and a nice time enjoyed. Mrs. Frank Perry acted as organist for the occasion.
